The Qualifying Examination consists of a combination of written and oral portions. For the written portion, the student prepares a comprehensive written proposal, which is the independent work of the student. For the oral portion, the student presents and defends this proposal before the examination committee. The results of the Qualifying Examination will be judged as "Pass", "Conditional Pass", or "Fail" taking into consideration both the written and oral portions of the exam. A unanimous affirmative vote is required for the results to be considered a "Pass" or a "Conditional Pass".
